Important information

- Report any of these symptoms to your doctor right away
- Symptoms that may appear mild can quickly worsen if left untreated
- Early treatment of side effects reduces the likelihood that ipilimumab treatment will need to be temporarily or permanently stopped
- Signs and symptoms may be delayed and may occur weeks to months after your last administration
- Don't try to treat these symptoms yourself without consulting with your doctor first
- Carry this card and show to ANY doctor you might interact with, and say that you are being treated with ipilimumab

By reporting adverse events you help us collect more information about the safety of this medicine.

IMPORTANT information for healthcare providers

- This patient is treated with ipilimumab
- Immune-related Adverse Reactions (irARs) can mostly occur during the treatment period, but may appear months after the last dose of ipilimumab
- Early diagnosis and appropriate management are essential to minimise life-threatening complications. Ipilimumab specific management guidelines for irARs are available
- If you are a doctor not specialised in oncology, please contact a specialist

Consult the ipilimumab Summary of Product Characteristics and Patient Information Leaflet on www.geneesmiddeleninformatiebank.nl or call Medical Information at +31 (0)303002 222 for more information.
